ARMY BUDGET
SLASH UNSAFE,
SAYS TRUMANPRESIDENT BACKS
UP PLEA OF WAR

BY FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Washington, Feb. 13 (P)—President Truman stepped into the congressional argument over how much the government should spend today with an assertion that the $37,500,000,000 he has asked is essential for safe operations.

He did not elaborate at a news conference on that word safe except to endorse without qualification the statement of Secretary of War Patterson.

The war department head declared last night that if the army has to take a $1,500,000,000 cut—as some legislators say it should—its "current and long-term missions" will be jeopardized. Its chief current duty is occupation of Japan and Germany. Its long-range mission is to protect the United States from attack.

Coalition Organizes
Mr. Truman's comment was in response to a reporter's request for his reaction to a Senate-House budget subcommittee's recommendation that $6,000,000,000 be trimmed from the president's budget.

At the capitol a bipartisan coalition contending that weakening the army and navy may lead to another war, organized for an attempt to hold the budget cut to $4,500,000,000 or less.

Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) said meanwhile that the alarms sounded by the army and navy indicated a "lack of understanding of the purpose of the new legislative budget law."

As chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, Bridges issued a statement saying:

"The action of the subcommittee, on Tuesday of this week, represents no specific action with respect to the military expenditures for the coming fiscal year on the expenditures of any branch of the government. It simply means that it is the judgment of that subcommittee that in view of all the inter-related needs, the federal government could and should be restricted to spending not more than $31,500,000,000 in the coming fiscal year."

"The military and all other branches of the government will have their day in court before the appropriations committees. * * *

Cut May Be Eased

Chairman Gurney (R-S. D.) of the Senate armed services committee announced a motion for a $4,500,000,000 cut will be offered tomorrow when the 102-member House-Senate budget committee meets for its showdown vote.

A group of Democratic senators, meeting behind closed doors, agreed informally to attempt at tomorrow's session to hold the reduction to $3,000,000,000. One of their number said that if this move fails, they will support the proposal to limit the cut to $4,500,000,000.

The Democratic whip, Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, also voiced alarm at reports of plans to cut the funds of the armed forces.

President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 calls for $6,700,000,000 for the army and $4,423,000,000 for the navy. According to budget committee sources, the $6,000,000,000 cut, already approved by the 20-member budgetary subcommittee, contemplates a $1,000,000,000 slash in army funds and $750,000,000 from the navy.

Blitz Days Recalled
In London Blackout;
U. S. To Offer Coal

BY TOM WILLIAMS

London, Feb. 13. (P)—Dwindling coal piles at gas companies threatened tonight to throw British industry for a further damaging loss as Prime Minister Attlee grimly told the House of Commons an end to the grave electric power crisis caused by the fuel shortage, had not been sighted.

He said the power blackout, applied originally to 38 English and Welsh counties on Monday, had been extended to coal in three days but added "the situation remains very critical."

(President Truman said in Washington the United States was ready to do everything in its power to relieve the British people in their present emergency, including the possible diversion to the United Kingdom of colliers presently on the high seas.)

CURBS CLAMPED
ON JERUSALEMBarbed Wire Closes Off
Holy City In Four Security Areas

Jerusalem, Feb. 13 (P)—The military clamped the most rigid security restrictions yet invoked on Jerusalem today as Maj. Gen. G. H. A. McMillan assumed his new post as commander-in-chief of British forces in Palestine and Trans-Jordan.

British troops put into full effect the new cantonization of the Holy City into four barbed wire-enclosed security compounds, where limited restrictions had prevailed for the past week. The Tommies checked traffic every few blocks.

A fresh outbreak of violence preceded the arrival of Gen. MacMillan from Cairo. Two small explosions in Haifa harbor before dawn sank a small government launch and damaged a police barge.

Ishak Biri, 33, a Jew kidnapped in a fight between Arabs and Jews at Bnei Geulim last night, was released six hours later, severely beaten. The fight stemmed from a long-standing dispute over grazing rights. Five Arabs were arrested in connection with the abduction.

Three other kidnappings were reported from unofficial sources last night in skirmishes between Jewish extremists and moderate elements in the Holy Land.

Store Cleared Out
By Snake Necklace
On Woman Shopper

Detroit, Feb. 13 (P)—Police answered a call to a store here today because the bargain counter had only two customers.

The officers found Mrs. Gracey Milton, 53, and with her, coiled around her throat, a six-foot long King snake. The two had the pick of the merchandise. Other shoppers had departed, screaming.

Police took Mrs. Milton to headquarters temporarily while they pondered a knotty problem. Was wearing a snake for a necklace an ordinary charge of disturbing the peace or carrying a dangerous weapon?

The snake? It wound up in the city pound.

BACKING GIVEN TO LILIENTHAL
BY PRESIDENTCOMMUNISM CHARGE
UNFOUNDED, NEWS
WRITERS TOLD

Washington, Feb. 13 (P)—President Truman pledged his unyielding support today to David E. Lilienthal, his choice for chairman of the atomic energy commission, and branded cries of Communism against Lilienthal as "completely unfounded."

Mr. Truman made it plain to a news conference that he does not intend to withdraw the nomination, saying that he considers Lilienthal fully and thoroughly equipped and that he will stay with him straight along.

The president permitted direct quotation of the words "absolutely unfounded" as his reply to suggestions that Lilienthal had Communist leanings.

This had been charged by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) who said in Senate hearings that Lilienthal, as head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, was "the No. 1 Communist in my state."

McKellar, longtime political foe of Lilienthal, was asked about Mr. Truman's remarks and replied: "The record speaks for itself. That's all I want to say now."

Bitter Fight Ahead
Almost as Mr. Truman was speaking, Senate Republican Leader White, of Maine, announced against Lilienthal for the atomic post.

White said in a statement that he opposes him particularly "because of his long hostility to legislative limitations sought to be imposed upon his dictatorial management of TVA."

The White-Truman declarations pointed to a bitter battle when the Lilienthal nomination reaches the floor from the Senate atomic committee which is holding hearings.

Lilienthal, former chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, long has been opposed by McKellar, who has denounced him as a man of Communist leanings. Other critics have declared that Lilienthal is an advocate of a "New Deal" philosophy which, they said, was repudiated by the voters at a last election.

The committee, considering the qualifications of Lilienthal and the other nominees to the atomic commission, was in recess today while McKellar rounded up further witnesses.

Boys Escape Death
For Kidnaping Aged
Ohio Man And Wife

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 13 (P)—Henry Black, Jr., 17, and Albert Webster, 14, both of Nashville, Tenn., were convicted in federal court tonight on charges of kidnaping an aged Ohio couple.

Sentencing was set for Feb. 24 by Judge Luther Swygert. The youths face possible life sentences. Judge Swygert having eliminated the possibility of death sentences earlier today.

The youths were convicted also on vehicle theft charges. The jury deliberated three and one-half hours.

The pair were accused of abducting Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sherrick of Conroy, Ohio, with whom they were riding last October near Van Wert, Ohio.

Mr. Sherrick testified that both of the boys raped her before she escaped from them at a New Haven, Ind., filling station. The boys fled when she called for help.

Fall In Washroom
Awarded Damages
Of $6,000 An Inch

Detroit, Feb. 13. (P)—Donald Donnelly is two inches shorter than his 12-year-old twin brother and a circuit court jury today awarded him $6,000 for each inch.

Donald Donnelly has gained two inches and 13 pounds over Donald since the latter fell on a washroom floor in a Woodward avenue theater in 1942.

Mrs. Ethel Donnelly, mother of the twins, sued for $50,000, charging that Donald's growth was retarded by the injury.

A jury of seven men and five women in Circuit Judge Adolph F. Marschner's court awarded damages of $12,000.

SCHOOLBOYS DROWN

Marine City, Mich., Feb. 13 (P)—Robert Buley, 7, and Robert Biscornor, 8, drowned today in the St. Clair river while playing during their school noon recess.

Fellow students at Holy Cross school said the boys had been climbing on a gravel pit near the river bank. They suddenly ran out on the ice and fell through.

CONGRESS SLOW
ON LABOR LAWSNew Bill Will Be Like
One Truman Vetted,
Senators Predict

Washington, Feb. 13. (P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted today that the upshot of congressional arguments over new labor laws will be a bill closely resembling the Case labor disputes measure which President Truman vetoed last year.

Taft, chairman of the Senate labor committee, made his prediction in an interview at Columbus, Ohio, during a lull in Senate committee hearings.

The senator said he expected a labor bill to be brought to the Senate floor by March 15 and that it probably would be three more weeks before it came to a Senate vote.

He, Senators Ball (R-Minn.) and Smith (R-N. J.) have offered a measure much like the Case bill of last year.

The Case bill would create a federal mediation board with power to delay strikes 60 days, outlaw union-controlled welfare funds, relieve employers of obligation to bargain with foremen, authorize suits against unions in federal courts and prohibit secondary boycotts and jurisdictional strikes.

In addition, the Taft-Ball-Smith bill would require registration of unions and filing of annual financial reports.

Boy, 16, Convicted
For Slaying His Policeman Father

Detroit, Feb. 1. (P)—A jury in recorder's court convicted 16-year-old Richard Viaw of first-degree murder today in the shooting of his policeman father, Gilbert Viaw, 43, last July 31.

Members of the jury—seven men and five women—left the court room with tears in their eyes after having condemned the young schoolboy-defendant to a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

After the verdict the youth's mother, Mrs. Emma Viaw, visited with her son, then collapsed and was carried from the building.

The mother had testified that her husband continually mistreated Richard and had beaten him for poor grades in school. Richard testified similarly.

Auctioneer Sigler
Sells Prize Steer
At $1.06 A Pound

East Lansing, Feb. 13 (P)—Governor Sigler, aviator and former cowboy, added to his accomplishments today by serving as an auctioneer.

The governor, in fair voice, auctioned a 1020-pound hereford steer before a crowd of 400 at the Michigan State College livestock pavilion.

With a start at 70 cents, Sigler brought the bidding up to a top of $1.06 a pound. A Lansing restaurant was the successful bidder.

The steer, owned by O. J. Richards of Avora, St. Clair county, was grand champion of a state breeders' contest.

Better Year-Round
Boat Service Asked
To Mackinac Island

Lansing, Feb. 13 (P)—The senate received today a resolution asking the state highway commissioner to investigate the possibilities of the state providing cheaper and more adequate year-round boat service to Mackinac Island.

The sponsor, Senator Harry F. Little, said he was informed the island was isolated at many times during the winter and that in summer more tourists would visit the island if it were more accessible.

MEN HUDDLED
IN COAL MINE
FOR SITDOWNDIGGERS CLAIM PAY
DOCKED, REFUSE TO COME UP

Lansford, Pa., Feb. 13 (P)—Pennsylvania's first anthracite miners sitdown in a decade today idled a big colliery where 13 men huddled 800 feet underground.

Refusal of 1,200 fellow workers to enter the pits shut down the Lansford workings of the Lehigh Navigation Coal company. United Mine Workers officials predicted the sympathy move would extend to other area operations employing 6,000.

The Panther valley general mine committee, composed of five miners from each local, voted unanimously to order the valley's 6,000 miners to remain away from work tomorrow.

Fifteen diggers originally refused to leave the mine at the end of their work shift last night, charging the company docked their pay when they failed to work a full day.

Bridgroom Gives Up

One emerged later due to illness and bridegroom Fritz Redbach gave up today after his wife visited the shaft head in an effort to speak to him. Redbach, promising to rejoin the sitdowners tomorrow, said he was needed to help set up a new home.

The remaining thirteen, provided with food, blankets, candy, gum and games, voted to make the cold, damp mine gangways home "until we are reimbursed for our justified pay."

Commented company Vice President Evan Evans:

"No formal grievance has been presented to the company by the group and when the action is taken we shall hear it with a sympathetic attitude. The company is asking its miners to live up to the union contract and no more than that. We are asking that because the company cannot continue to operate at the present rate of production.

"Costs must be lowered and the only way that can be done is through more production and at least a full day's work by each individual who is paid for a day's work."

Can't Work Full Day

Not since 1937 has there been a similar protest in the eastern Pennsylvania anthracite fields where some 75,000 diggers turn out a normally daily average production of 206,000 tons of coal, used mostly for domestic purposes.

Forty-four men at that time stayed 1,200 feet underground at a Coalade colliery for a week until former Governor George H. Earle intervened to settle their pay dispute.

The UMW Panther valley mine committee said more than 200 employees of the Lehigh company were docked in pay yesterday and that one of the strikers, Adam Kokinda, father of 16, received $26.16 for 11 days work after deductions. Other strikers complained they were docked as much as $60, reported the committee.

Known as "consideration miners," the sitdowners were engaged in developing a new area of the mine. Because this type of work results in lower production, they are paid a flat daily rate. They claim abnormal conditions—heat, smoke and dust—prevent them from putting in a full day without endangering their health.

Bradley Reports
Merchant Marine
Extension Voted

Washington, Feb. 13 (P)—The House merchant marine committee today unanimously approved legislation extending for four months the maritime commission's authority to operate as a water carrier.

Chairman Bradley (R-Mich.) told newsmen the legislation, requested by President Truman and backed by the shipping industry, will be called up Monday in the House.

The commission's ship operating authority expires on February 28 of this year unless Congress extends it. The legislation extends the authority until the end of June.

READING PAROLED

Jackson, Mich., Feb. 13 (P)—Richard Reading, former Detroit mayor, was released on parole from southern Michigan state prison today after serving three years on charges brought by the Ferguson grand jury. He was met by his son, Richard Reading, Jr., who was also paroled recently.

Eight Killed Flying
Food To Snowbound
Village In England

London, Feb. 13. (P)—Britain's worst winter in half a century claimed the lives of eight men today in the flaming wreckage of an RAF bomber carrying parachute-packed food for a snowbound Staffordshire village.

The Halifax bomber crashed two miles from Butterton where villagers had marked sooty crosses on snowdrifts as the place for the dropping of the first food supplies in 10 days of complete isolation.

The plane had taken off in freezing and low visibility conditions. Shortly before the crash the pilot radioed that conditions were "worse than yesterday" when the flight was cancelled.

The bodies of the five crewmen, two press photographers, and a glider regiment soldier were strewn over a snowy moor.

Sixteen similar flights awaiting clearing skies were called off at once by the air ministry in a day which brought renewed freezing temperatures throughout Britain and little hope of immediate relief. London's highest mark was 31 degrees and temperatures dropped lower in rural areas.

Factories Shut Down

The fuel shortage gripping Britain hit the continent too.

Amsterdam was blacked out because of low fuel stocks. Theaters, dance halls and other amusement places were cut off from coal supplies, civil service buildings were ordered closed on Saturdays and private enterprises were asked to do likewise.

Belgium reported coal deliveries a month behind schedule.

The big Fiat Automobile works at Turin, Italy, shut down for lack of electric power, leaving 40,000 Italians jobless.

In Czechoslovakia civilian volunteers were called to clear eight-foot snowdrifts and free 2,000 coal cars on the Ostrava-Prerov line.

At Hamburg, Germany, power service was cut to two hours a day. The bulk of Germany's industries were shut down. Fatalities from cold in Berlin rose to 130 since December.

Rain and a sudden temperature dip covered Paris streets with dangerous ice.

SENATORS HUNT
MICHIGAN REDSCommittee Created To Check On Communism
Throughout State

Lansing, Feb. 13 (P)—The senate voted today to create a three-man committee to investigate communism throughout Michigan.

Lieut. Gov. Eugene C. Key, appointed to the committee Senators Matthew F. Callahan, Detroit, Colin L. Smith, Big Rapids, and Don Vanderwerf, Fremont, all Republicans.

The investigation, originally sponsored by Callahan as a probe of reported communism at Wayne university, was broadened in committee to cover all state activities.

Callahan said on the senate floor "our schools are being used by a subversive organization, parading under the name of the American youth for democracy, that is nothing but a front for Communists. Can we sit idly by and appropriate money to maintain and foster this kind of thing? I am not thinking of a witch hunt or brass band affair, but of a quiet, orderly investigation."

President Truman
Remains Potential
Candidate For 1948

Washington, Feb. 13. (P)—President Truman said today he will continue to operate as president "without regard to narrow political considerations," but did not remove himself as a possible 1948 Democratic candidate.

Asked at a news conference about the action of Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan in placing his hat in the ring for the 1948 presidential nomination, the president read from a prepared statement:

"In view of certain comment regarding the presidency, I wish to say that there has been no change in my attitude since the statement I read to you on November 11, 1946."

"That is to say, I intend to continue to act in this office as the agent of the American people, without regard to my personal political fortunes. I repeat what I said on Nov. 11, when I pledged the executive to cooperate in every proper manner with the congress."

"As president of the United States I am guided by a simple formula: To do in all cases from day to day, without regard to narrow political considerations, what seems to me to be best for the welfare of all our people."

SIGLER LOSES
ONE ROUND IN FISCAL MIXUPSOLUTION IS UP TO LEGISLATURE NOW,
SAYS GOVERNOR

Lansing, Feb. 13 (P)—The Sigler administration appeared tonight virtually to have lost its fight to place on the April 7 ballot a repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment, although some senators said it might be revived next week.

CONCEDES DEFEAT

Detroit, Feb. 13. (P)—Governor Sigler formally conceded tonight that his proposal for repeal of the state sales tax diversion amendment is "deader than a mackerel."

In an address before the Detroit Junior Chamber of Commerce, the governor retraced the brief course of the repeal proposal from passage by the state House of Representatives to the Senate judiciary committee. Such a destination, he declared, is "generally construed" to mean defeat.

"The repeal of the sales tax amendment is a good place to start overhauling Michigan's old-fashioned tax machinery," he said. "Adding new taxes is only putting salve on the boil."

The Senate, on a voice vote, shunted the proposal back into the judiciary committee, and leaders admitted they lacked at least one vote of the number necessary to pass it. Senator Harry F. Little, chairman, said it would not come out of committee unless he knew it would pass, but he hinted he might try next week to round up more votes.

No Alternative Plan
Governor Sigler told a press conference he was informed the measure, key of his eight-point program of fiscal reform, had been "killed."

"It's their baby now," he said, referring to the legislature and the fiscal problem. "I expect them to meet the problem of deficit, of new taxes and of solving the financial problems. I will offer no alternative programs."

"I think acted wisely," Sigler said. "If a few men in the Senate want to assume the responsibility for defeating our efforts in this matter then they've got to assume the responsibility for it. I realize the very tremendous pressure some of them were under. One senator was informed today he would suffer a great financial loss in business if he voted for the measure."

Although he previously had said the deadline for getting the repealer on the ballot was Friday, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger told Sigler after the Senate defeat that by "cutting corners" he could wait until Wednesday.

New Taxes Probable
Asserting he would make no move to get favorable Senate action, Sigler said he, as a major force of groups applying pressure on the legislature, "cannot be the first to start doing that myself."

"I am not going to make any appeals to the Senate to act," the governor said. "I asked the legislators in my message to stand up and be counted and not give way to pressure groups. I spoke out in the open where all could hear. I'm not going around and do the

MINOR DRINKERS MAY FACE FINE

Code Is Proposed To Make Use Of Liquor
Under 21 A Crime

Lansing, Feb. 13. (P)—A new attack on the problem of minor drinkers was in the offing tonight with the report of Rep. Howard R. Carroll, Mt. Clemens Republican, that he was preparing an amendment to the criminal code making it a crime for minors to represent themselves as 21 in order to be served liquor.

"We have got to put some kind of legal responsibility on the minor himself," Carroll said. "At present the only person legally responsible in the situation is the much-maligned licensee holder." Carroll, an attorney and chairman of the judiciary committee, said that a similar measure introduced by Senator Frank Heath, Bay City Republican, appeared to have little chance of passage. "Heath's bill proposes an amendment to the liquor control act," Carroll said, "and it's getting loaded down with amendments in committee. It looks like the amendments are going to kill it."

Citizens Education Conference Booked In Escanaba Feb. 21

Lansing, Feb. 13. (P)—Two sections of the annual Citizens' Education Conference will be held this year—one at Lansing Feb. 19, and the other at Escanaba Feb. 21, Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, said today.

Dr. Howard Dawson, of the National Education Association, will speak at both sessions. Other speakers at Escanaba will include Victor A. Knox, speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, and Dr. Lee M. Thurston, deputy superintendent of public instruction.

The meetings will be attended by heads of veterans groups, service organizations, and church and school groups. Topic of the meetings will be "Education for Community Living."

Father Marries Off Sons And Daughter In Triple Ceremony

Corapolis, Pa., Feb. 13. (P)—Albert Dinell, foundry foreman, today watched two sons and a daughter marry at a triple ceremony, rubbed his hands briskly and exclaimed: "Now, if I can get my five other children on the next trip, everything will be fine."

Father Dinell took the credit for promoting the three ceremonies with a fine sense of responsibility, also provided apartments for the three couples.

"They've been hanging around here so long, I finally asked: 'What are you going to do?' They said, 'get married one at a time.' I told them that would be too much bother and they agreed to do it together."

Then Dinell bought a house and converted it into three apartments as a wedding gift. He also stood the bill for a open house party with 400 guests and an orchestra.

Dried Whole Eggs To Be Bought For Resale To Britain

Washington, Feb. 13. (P)—The agriculture department announced today an offer to buy an additional 13,000,000 pounds of dried whole eggs for resale to the United Kingdom.

The department already has bought about 18,500,000 pounds for the British this year.

The purchases served a two-fold purpose—one of providing the British with food and the other of supporting producer prices of eggs.

Processors supplying the department must certify that they paid producers an average of 33 cents a dozen for shell eggs.

Annual Legislative Sessions Proposed In Bill At Lansing

Lansing, Feb. 13. (P)—Senator James T. Milliken's constitutional amendment to order annual sessions of the legislature, instead of every two years, passed the Senate today and went to the House.

Proponents of the measure argued that it now is impossible for the legislature to appropriate sensibly two years in advance and that annual sessions would provide a closer check on state governmental operations.

Senator Don Vanderwerf, Fremont Republican, attacked the measure as "asinine," asserting large segments of the state were "disturbed, irritated or suspicious" while the legislature was in session and that annual sessions would only increase "controversy." He said: "There are too many laws now."

The Senate stalled until next week a $11,333,000 deficiency bill for state agencies, exceeding their appropriations.

Senator Otto W. Bishop, chairman of the finance committee, blamed the deficiencies on the state civil service department, asserting it had raised wages $7,000,000 after last year's budget was adopted. Fiscal officers said the bill covered not more than $222,000 worth of salary items and that the overruns resulted because the finance committee, House ways and means committee and former administration authorized agencies to overspend. Bishop blamed it on former Governor Harry F. Kelly.

The Senate received a bill from Senator Joseph P. Cloon, Wakefield Republican, to permit one horse race track in every county of the state and four tracks in a "city area"—a district within 30 miles of a city and containing at least 100,000 population.

It would require a totalizer at all tracks where betting is allowed and would place racing under a single commissioner.

Instead of a fixed tax, Cloon proposed to assess each track four per cent of all wagers. Licensed tracks would be allowed to keep 10 per cent of the take in a city area, but not the "breaks," while in other areas they would receive 12 per cent of the take and the "breaks"—defined as "the cents over any multiple of five." Under the present law the "breaks" are at five cents.

Jensen Offers Measure
The House deferred to Tuesday consideration of a bill to provide city assessors with free copies of the public acts.

Opponents of immediate action wanted exact information of the cost.

A proposal to convert the $5,000,000 highway planning fund into an appropriation for a new Straits of Mackinac ferry boat and dock improvements was filed in the House.

A bill to that effect introduced by Rep. Roy A. Jensen, Escanaba Republican, provides for equipping the new ferry with ice-breaking equipment. Jensen declared this would improve winter service.

Prince Leaves $900 In Tips At Detroit

Detroit, Feb. 13. (P)—Crown Prince Saud Al-Saud of Saudi Arabia flew out of Detroit today leaving behind $900 in tips at his hotel.

The crown prince visited the city to inspect automotive plants, flying from here to New York City. The $900 covered employees of his (Ft. Shelby) hotel and policemen who maintained a 24-hour watch on the royal suite which covered one entire floor. Drivers who whisked the royal party from place to place were also included.

Action On Five-Day Bank Week Dropped

Lansing, Feb. 13. (P)—A move to install a five-day week for banks has been dropped for the current legislative session, the legislative committee of the Michigan Bankers Association said today.

Ray O. Brundage, association secretary, said that while committee members considered the issue to be one which eventually will lead to legislative action, they were not ready to make a decision.

SOVIETS INSIST ON ATOMIC BAN

Plan To Outlaw Fission
Weapons Promised For
U. N. Council Today

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

Lake Success, N. Y., Feb. 13. (P)—Andre A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the United Nations security council, said tonight he would present to the council tomorrow Russia's plan for outlawing atomic weapons by international convention.

Gromyko thus served notice that he would insist once more upon adoption of the basic proposition he first put before the United Nations atomic energy commission last June 19. He is slated to speak when the security council meets at 2 p. m. (C. S. T.) for full debate on the Dec. 31 report of the U. N. atomic energy commission.

He told newsmen after the security council adjourned today that he still stood on his proposal to outlaw atomic weapons by agreement among the nations.

The Russian atomic plan envisions the prohibition of atomic weapons by international convention; the destruction of existing atomic bombs within 90 days after the convention is effective; and the enactment by the signatory nations of national legislation regulating atomic energy and providing for punishments within six months after the effective date of the convention.

In the long and involved debate since last June Gromyko has flatly rejected the United States atomic plan, which calls for outlawing atomic weapons, establishment of an international authority to handle all phases of atomic development and control, and which waives the veto on punishment of nations violating the atomic code.

Shipload Of Coal For Eire Is Sunk; 16 Of 17 Missing

Rosslare, Eire, Feb. 13. (P)—The 642-ton Panamanian collier Ary, carrying a load of coal from Wales to Eire, foundered and sank in an Irish Sea gale and 16 of its 17 crew members are missing, a survivor said tonight.

Jan Bouski, a 19-year-old Pole who was washed ashore today, said the ship went down near the Irish coast. It had not been reported since it left Port Talbot, Wales, on Feb. 8.

Flint. (P)—Police today continued their investigation of a street fight that broke out Tuesday night after the Flint Northern Flint Central high school basketball game, with two students being arrested and 25 others detained for short periods.

Authorities said the original police detail was unable to cope with the disorders and 20 additional officers were rushed to the scene.

Young Desperado Caught In Texas After 4-Day Hunt

Paris, Tex., Feb. 13. (P)—Barefoot, tattooed and unarmed, a youthful desperado surrendered today to three Texas peace officers who said he had terrorized north-east Texas for four days with a one-man crime wave ranging from burglaries to kidnappings.

The capture occurred on a farm. Taken to the sheriff's office at Bonham, the man gave his name as Walter Glen Ransom, 23, of Edinburg, Tex., and said he was on parole from the Minnesota state prison.

Questioned by Captain M. P. Gonzales of the Texas Rangers, the youth also said he was a former inmate of the Texas state school for boys at Gatesville. No charge had been filed against him.

The surrender ended one of the greatest manhunts in Texas in recent years. More than 100 peace officers, many farmers and other citizens equipped with shotguns, airplanes and bloodhounds participated in the four-day search. A Dallas police officer, P. D. Hale, was killed in the crash of his plane while engaged in the hunt yesterday.

The youth gave up without a struggle after he was trapped by a pursuing posse.

The first of a series of crimes for which officers sought to question him occurred Monday night in the Mt. Pleasant, Texas, area.

Food Prices Start Upward Once More; Commodities Rise

Washington, Feb. 13. (P)—Wholesale prices, as measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, rose one per cent during the week ended Feb. 8 as food prices started upward again and other commodities continued to rise.

The bureau said today its index reached 141.7 per cent of the 1926 average—0.6 per cent above the previous postwar peak in mid-January and 32.3 per cent above early February, 1946.

Reversing a downward trend of recent weeks, average food prices bounded up 1.7 per cent and farm products were up 0.4 per cent.

DIARY OFFERED BY MORGENTHAU

Former Secretary Of Treasury Willing To Turn Over Papers

Washington, Feb. 13. (P)—Treasury Secretary Snyder said tonight he had made arrangements with former Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., for the return to the treasury of any material in Morgenthau's 900-volume diary which may be needed to complete the department's official records.

Snyder said in a statement that he had not seen the diary, and therefore could not say "to what extent the materials contained in it are needed to complete the official departmental records."

He added that it is planned to examine the material with that end in view.

"This is entirely agreeable to Mr. Morgenthau, whose integrity and good faith have never been questioned," Snyder said.

Snyder made public a letter from Morgenthau in which the latter said the papers he had taken with him when he left the treasury "never went into nor became a part of the treasury files."

Washington, and is still my belief, that no official papers or records were included in my personal file," Morgenthau wrote.

"Nevertheless, I will welcome having you or your representatives go over them and will gladly return any papers which are official."

Bills For Living Expenses Rejected By Auditor General

Lansing, Feb. 13. (P)—Legislators' expense accounts, awaiting legalization by the governor's signature, may run into a snag when they reach Auditor General Muriel K. Aten's desk, it was indicated today.

The possibility arose when Aten refused to allow Attorney General Eugene F. Black $213.34 for his January living expenses. Black pointed out that the auditor general would probably make the same ruling when he is confronted with legislators' expense accounts, but this Aten refused to confirm or deny.

"I don't think Gene Black would want this paid if there was any legal question about it," Aten said in turning back Black's account. "I am refusing to pass this voucher pending a judicial determination."

Black said the question would probably be taken to court when and if the legislators' accounts were refused and that both cases would then be settled.

Glenn Jackson Lauded As Circuit Judge Candidate

Attorney Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone last night was lauded as the candidate for circuit judge of the 25th judicial district in whom "the people can have confidence," and as "the man for the job" by speakers at the Jackson rally in the Bonifas auditorium in Escanaba.

The auditorium was filled for the bi-partisan meeting sponsored by the local Jackson for Circuit Judge committee. Atty. Robert LeMire of Escanaba was chairman.

Principal speakers were Atty. J. Joseph Herbert of Manistique and Atty. Wendell Lund of Washington, D. C., formerly of Escanaba. Others who appeared on the speaking program were Attorneys Jackson, Denis McGinn and Wheaton Strom.

Atty. Herbert spoke on the subject "Glenn Jackson: The Man for the Job." He praised Atty. Jackson's character as a member of the bar in Delta county for many years, and described him as eminently fitted to assume the position of judge of the 25th judicial district. The qualifications of Atty. Jackson are outstanding as a candidate for the nomination, said Herbert, and he added that Atty. Jackson is "the man for the job."

"Our laws and the judges who interpret and enforce them will keep our nation on the road of freedom and justice for all under the law," Atty. Lund said in his talk at the rally.

"Our system of laws distinguishes our nation from many of the other countries of the world. Our system is based upon the philosophy of the dignity and equality of the individual, so well expressed in the Declaration of Independence and in the first ten amendments of our Constitution," Lund. "It has its roots in the Christian religion, and all that it stands for."

"From time immemorial, the function of the judge has been a high and sacred one. Our sacred and secular literature abound with references to the importance of the judge in every part of world history. Yes, the task of the judge comes closer to being a sacred task than any other function of government. It has its foundations in the deepest feeling of men and women for decency, for fairness, security, justice, and for a better ordered world," Lund declared. "Without the judiciary, the freedoms guaranteed to us as citizens—freedom of assembly, freedom of speech and of the press, freedom of religion, freedom from arbitrary arrest—would be a pious but futile hope. For each of these freedoms depends upon the judiciary for its interpretation and enforcement. They are meaningful and vital only insofar as the courts make them so, and the liberty and justice we cherish in this country will last only so long as we have judges of unquestioned integrity and wisdom to protect them for us."

"That great American, whose birthday we celebrate this week, Abraham Lincoln, in one of the early speeches of his public career, stated, 'Let obedience to law be breathed by every mother to the babe that prattles on her lap. Let it be preached from our pulpits, proclaimed in our legislative halls, and enforced in our courts of justice.' But it is hard for men and women to respect our laws unless they have confidence in our judges," Lund said.

"I believe the people of the 25th judicial district can have confidence in Glenn Jackson. His life and career fit into our best legal tradition. He is a man learned in the law, yet humane and understanding. He knows the people of this area, and their problems. Out of the depth of his background and experience, he will deal fairly in issues arising between litigants in this judicial district. The administration of justice in this judicial circuit is safe in his hands," Lund continued.

"The election of a circuit judge is a matter of the highest concern to everyone of us. No good citizen will want to watch this election from the sidelines, or to assume that its result has no bearing upon him personally. Although most of us hope and feel that we shall never be involved in any matters before a court, this is a hope without an assurance. Any one of us may be involved in a court matter. But whether or not we are involved in a matter in court, we have a direct and personal interest in the courts of our state and nation—the tribunals that protect each of us in the practice and enjoyment of the freedoms guaranteed to us by our federal and state constitutions." Atty. McGinn, speaking briefly, said that Atty. Jackson had not only been endorsed by the Delta County Bar Association—that the association had asked him to be a candidate last October. The active campaign for his nomination has had wide support by the members of the association and the Jackson for Circuit Judge committee, he added.

Saturday night in the Legion hall at Gladstone there will be another Jackson pre-primary rally. Speakers will be Attorneys Jackson, Wheaton Strom, James R. Fitzharris, McGinn and Clyde McGonagle.

The Sugar Shortage

THERE'S a world shortage of sugar, says a U. S. Agricultural Department bulletin. The sugar just doesn't exist, and it can't be grown overnight. World sugar production last year was only 27 million tons, as compared to about 35 million tons annual production in pre-war years.

Cuba will grow more sugar this year, and so will continental United States. We used to get a million tons of sugar a year from the Philippines, and more than that from Java, but shipments from them this year will be next to nothing.

Last year our sugar consumption per capita was 73 pounds. Before the war we used about 100 pounds per head. Citizens of Canada and England have the same sugar ration allowance that we have, but practically all people in the war areas are getting along on far less.

There is likely to be a little more sugar after April, but there is always the possibility of crop failures, political unrest, strikes, or transportation stoppages. If everybody in the United States gets five pounds more sugar this year, we will have to get from somewhere about 750,000 tons more than we had in 1946. That's a lot of sugar, and the day isn't in sight when the housewife can walk into a store and buy all the sugar she wants. It will be a great day for the country, but it isn't likely to dawn in 1947.

A $1,500,000 Train

FOLLOWING the lead taken by the Chicago and North Western and other railroads, the Rock Island railroad has invested $1,500,000 in a streamliner train, which will be traveling between Chicago and Los Angeles next summer.

The Rock Island's luxury train will have all the modern comforts and conveniences that have been long promised postwar travelers. It will be just like a dream home on wheels.

Railroad passenger service has greatly improved in America during the past decade. It has come as a part of the railroads' struggle for survival in the face of competition furnished by the private automobile and airplane.

Modernization has paid off handsomely for the railroads. The public has shown by its increased patronage that it wants faster travel, although it need not necessarily be as speedy as the airplane. Comfortable seats, clean coaches, good meals at reasonable prices, courtesy from conductors and other railroad employees, and other refinements in passenger service have been greatly appreciated. The railroads no longer enjoy a monopoly in transportation. They must give the service to stay in business.

Escanaba's Ice Revue

NEW YORK, Chicago and other large cities may have their Ice Follies and various traveling ice shows, but Escanaba is more than satisfied with its annual home talent Ice Revue, which opened last night and will continue through Sunday.

Sonja Henie and Evelyn Chandler admittedly are great figure skaters, but Escanabans, who packed the fairgrounds exhibition building for the local performances, are really more interested in the youngsters and grownups who have worked for weeks to present an outstanding program.

Of course, the fact that the spectators are well acquainted with the soloists and every member of the chorus helps to build up much interest in the annual Ice Revue. That is not all, however. Escanaba's skaters are good. Some of them have gone from Escanaba to the big time shows. Costuming, scenery and staging are also exceptionally good; in fact, some of these features are on par with those offered by the traveling shows.

The Ice Revue has become a highly esteemed Escanaba institution. It is Escanaba's outstanding winter attraction. Don't miss it!

Tax Dodgers Paying Off

UNCLE SAM took 536 million dollars away from tax dodgers in the period from last July to October, in extra assessments and penalties.

This makes more than 1,500 million extracted by the U. S. Treasury Department from offenders since the big drive against evaders was launched a year ago.

The total will be boosted considerably, for thousands of additional investigations are pending. Many new investigators are spreading out through the country, and from the Treasury point of view they are paying their way very well.

The fact is that the average evader doesn't realize what he is up against in trying to fool the internal revenue collectors. Uncle Sam now has sources of information that make it almost impossible to beat the rap when it comes to paying taxes. Big war contractors and black marketers who thought they were too smart to be caught are paying plenty for their crookedness, and John Q. Public isn't shedding a tear over the outcome.

Constitutional Revision

THE argument that the No. 2 sales tax amendment would serve a good purpose in forcing overhauling of Michigan's state constitution now appears to be a valid one.

In urging repeal of the amendment, Governor Sigler also advocates appointment of a constitutional revision commission, which will draft a constitution containing a fair and workable system of taxation.

Michigan's constitution has become over-loaded with amendments, some of which have hampered instead of aided the orderly processes of government. A constitutional convention is long overdue, for the state constitution sorely needs a major operation.

Other Editorial Comments

X-RAY AT HOSPITAL— (Menominee Herald-Leader)

Menominee persons had more x-ray examinations in 1946 than they did in 1943, 1944 and 1945 combined. The result is that they had more expert diagnosis of their ailments. The cause was the radiologist service instituted here under Kellogg Foundation sponsorship. Diagnostic x-ray equipment at St. Joseph's hospital has been brought to a high standard and Dr. L. Grant Glickman, radiologist, spends part of each week at the hospital. Now it is announced that the Kellogg Foundation has ordered equipment for x-ray deep therapy for cancer and other conditions for St. Joseph's hospital, which will be the only hospital in the Twin Cities and the upper peninsula so equipped. This is an asset of major importance to Menominee for which it should be grateful to the Kellogg Foundation and to the local committee of physicians and surgeons which obtained the grant.

FOR CHEAPER OXYGEN (Milwaukee Journal)

Oxygen is one of the gases widely needed in industry. But its use has been somewhat restricted by its cost. It was produced in only a few centers and shipped in heavy cylinders. Now there is a prospect that it may be produced almost anywhere it is wanted.

A compact oxygen generating unit, developed during the war in connection with high altitude aviation, is now available. Massachusetts Institute of Technology experts think that it will now be possible to shorten the heating period of metals without undue cost. Eventually, they predict, oxygen will be used to render house heating systems more efficient.

So here we have another new thing coming out of the war—an application of a war forced discovery for peacetime use. It is another proof that a few at least of all the millions of dollars spent in the progress of war pay long time dividends when the war is over.

TIMBER CUTTING (Milwaukee Journal)

The bill to regulate the cutting of immature trees, long advocated by the conservation commission, has been introduced in the legislature by the committee on agriculture and conservation.

In the absence of federal regulation to govern all such cutting everywhere in the United States, with due regard for regional conditions, Wisconsin should provide its own protection.

Prohibition of the cutting of immature trees, especially in this paper producing state, urgently is needed. We cannot continue to strip the new growth in the forest areas and hope to retain an adequate local supply of pulpwood to help keep the mills running and employment of woods workers continuous.

There is little merit in harvesting small, unsatisfactory "sticks" of pulpwood when those same trees could produce several times their volume if allowed to grow for a few years.

The bill would confine regulation to specified trees, not including: aspen or "popple." It would permit much leeway—allow release cutting, or a plan for forest management if approved by the commission. It would not restrain any kind of cutting on actual farm wood lots up to 40 acres, or even larger lots if satisfactory preservation plans were presented to the commission. It would not regulate land clearing operations where farms are permitted under zoning laws. And its provisions would be confined to the fire protection districts, which largely are in the northern part of the state.

An advisory board of paper mill operators and lumbermen would be appointed to counsel with the commission. Since the federal forest service has not been authorized to regulate cutting, Wisconsin had better do what it can to preserve its young trees until they have attained soundly productive size.

SOME MATTERS OF USAGE

Los Angeles: For months now there has jumped at me from magazine and radio ads the phrase: "More doctors smoke Blanks than any other cigarette." Let's split some hairs, shall we?—D. E. B.

Answer: Advertising writers are uninhibited souls who nearly always throw the syntax rules out the window. (As a reformed advertising man, I ought to know.) They strive for "punch," terseness, and originality of expression; and we should not try to hold them to standards that are too rigid.

However, there is no law against hair-splitting; so let's analyze the sentence in question.

The sentence as it stands is elliptic. When the missing or understood elements are supplied, this is the surprising result: "More doctors smoke Blanks than any other cigarette (smokes Blanks)."

Now to correct this illogic, a verb is

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Miners in the bituminous coal fields are mining a record volume of coal. The figure for the week ending February 1 was 13,800,000 tons. For the second week in January it was 13,700,000 tons.

These figures are compiled in the department of the Interior. The federal government is still boss of the bituminous coal industry, with the future dependent on the decision of the supreme court in the case of John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

From week to week, Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug and the navy officers doing the actual work of mine supervision have awaited the momentous ruling. The process of turning the mines back to private ownership will not get very far until both sides in the dispute know where they stand.

When Lewis called off the coal strike last December, he said that work would go on without interruption up to a March 31 deadline. That deadline is fast approaching. Although production in recent weeks has been at a record high, consumption has also been high and coal reserves are not very much larger than they were when the crippling strike ended.

—LEWIS KEEPS SILENCE—

If the court rules that the government had no right to enjoin Lewis and the United Mine Workers, then Lewis will make the most of a technical victory. He has been very quiet since that day of drama when he ended the strike with all the flourishes of a veteran actor of the school of Shakespearean tragedy. But with a technical triumph, the Lewis volcano would certainly become active again.

If the court rules that the government had a perfect right to enjoin Lewis, then the task of getting the mines back to private ownership will be comparatively simple. The northern mine owners and the owners of the captive mines seem to be willing to negotiate a contract with Lewis that will include the disputed welfare-fund clause.

To finance the welfare fund, five cents a ton is being set aside for every ton of coal mined. That is a reasonable sum, in the opinion of the government bosses now operating the mines. They believe the northern owners would accept it.

The southern owners are something else again. But with an agreement from the north in his pocket, the probability is that Lewis would eventually get a similar contract from the operators in the south.

The present record production has little or nothing to do with the fact that the mines are still being operated by the government. To begin with, it is a seller's market. Industrial production remains at a high level, and the demand for coal is consequently also high.

As for the miners, they have felt the pinch of several strikes in recent years. They want to get in all possible overtime to make up for their losses, and what is more, they must pay high prices for necessities. Miners' pay has averaged $60 to $65 a week in recent weeks.

—FEAR STRIKE AFTER MARCH 31—

Even if the government should win the case before the supreme court, the probability is for a strike after March 31. It has become a kind of tradition with the miners to take a vacation beginning April 1. The demand for coal eases off about that time, and the men in the mines like to get in a little fishing and loafing.

Whether a strike occurs, and how long it lasts, depends partly on what Congress will have done about labor legislation. If measures such as the ban on the closed shop are still under consideration, then Lewis can be expected to hold the boys in line. Despite all the bluster of last November and December, Lewis is fearful of what this Republican congress will do.

Inevitably our record production stands out in contrast to what is happening today in Great Britain. But here again, politics has little to do with it. The decline in British coal production began long before the labor party proposed to socialize the coal industry. Slowly the industry has fallen into decrepitude. Both owners and miners have resisted the introduction of labor-saving machinery. It is more or less accurate to say that socialization is the end result of persistent failure on the part of private enterprise. And it is a lesson to us here in America that British industry is largely dominated by monopoly cartels.

With our present record volume of production, it should be possible to send more coal to Europe in this most desperate year in fifty years. But Secretary Krug says the present 2,000,000 tons a month to Europe is more or less fixed by port facilities. Once again our feast is in striking contrast to Europe's famine.

needed in the clause which begins with the conjunction "than," thus: "More doctors smoke Blanks than (they) smoke any other cigarette," the pronoun "they" being understood.

Riverside: Recently you wrote, "the river empties into the Gulf of Mexico." Colby, you're wrong! A river cannot empty so long as any water remains in it. Webster and our best authorities in English are against you.—S. A. H.

Answer: Sorry, but "the river empties" is a quite proper idiom. Here is one of the definitions of the very "to empty," Webster's New International: "To discharge itself; as, the river empties into the ocean." The New Century: "To discharge contents, as a river." Funk and Wagnall: "To pour out itself or its waters; as, the river empties into the bay."

Los Angeles: Not long ago, in referring to an opinion given you by Ely Culbertson, you wrote: "He cites me to page 157." Oh! Is that strictly kosher?—K. M.

Answer: It's a little redundant. Better: "He cites page 157." However, Funk and Wagnall sanctions "cite a fact to a person."

By The Bugler

AND WHY NOT—We see by the papers that a Menominee attorney and presumably a member of the bar association of that county and of the state of Michigan is opposed to "circus" methods in the current pre-primary campaign for circuit judge.

The attorney is George Barstow, and he was undoubtedly expressing his honest opinion, which is the right of any man.

Atty. Barstow in his Menominee talk scored the use of billboard advertising, and the slogan "lawyer's lawyer," as examples of undignified campaigning.

So far as we are concerned there is little difference in using a billboard to attract public attention to the qualifications of a candidate for public office than there is in the use of radio or newspaper advertising, or distributing handbills that blow around the streets.

DRASTIC MEASURES—It must be remembered that this is the first circuit court judgeship contest in the history of the 25th judicial district. Which means that the vast majority of the voters must be aroused by campaign methods if they are to be interested to the point of voting.

"I always thought they just appointed judges—I didn't know you had to elect them," an Escanaba man observed the other day. "I never heard of such a thing until the last couple of weeks."

Rather, drastic measures are needed to direct public attention to the necessity for voting for circuit judge in the primary Monday, after so many years of quiet appointments and uncontested elections. If billboards, rallies, radio and newspaper publicity are required, it is the 1947 method of doing things.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE—So far as we can see it is the only fair and equitable way of conducting an election campaign—whether the office at stake is for circuit judge or president of the United States.

Our courts of law are not inner sanctums presided over by men who have severed all connections with the mass of people whom they represent in the interpretation of the people's laws. It is our opinion that our courts have too long been hampered by the notion that judges are being set apart from the common herd—men who fraternize only with members of their profession, and who are too carefully shielded from rude contacts with laymen.

And the people themselves may finally come to the conclusion that judges are cloistered, dignified personages, remote and unapproachable.

The legal profession itself has not been averse to this impression, and sometimes fosters its creation. Now we have the rather violent disruption of the impression because of the necessity of nominating two of five candidates, and then electing one of them. To nominate and elect it is necessary to garner votes from the people, and the candidates for judge must be presented as of the people and for the people.

Fortunately there is no other way of conducting an election.

RALLYING AROUND—Because circuit judge candidates must be lawyers, it is understandable that fellow members of the legal profession would gather

Oscar Bloom of Lufefisk, Norway, has come to officiate at the crowning of King Andy P. Olafson, ruler tonight of the Escanaba winter carnival hilarity at the Ludington Park ice arena. Chippy Pete and his faithful mare will be on hand to escort his old friend Andy to the throne amid the whoops of Indians, the shrill cries of the goated bird and the raucous shrieks of the hogdag and side-hill gouger.

Miss Sophie Perow will leave the latter part of this week for Milwaukee. Miss Perow has taken a position in Milwaukee and plans to make her future home there.

As the house drew nearer today to the vote on the McNary Hauge farm bill, Secretary Mellon outlined in a letter made public at the capital, the difficulty he believes would be encountered in enforcing such a measure. In it he stated that the organization to facilitate the handling of such a bill would be too large and that the cost of maintaining it would run to $800,000.

around and support the candidate from their own county or locality. In some counties, such as Delta, this support has been organized to a considerable degree. The people in other counties or localities with a judge candidate can do likewise if they desire. It may appear "undignified" to some persons—but it must be legal or we suppose the legal profession wouldn't be a party to it.

GETTING OUT THE VOTE—More than anything else, all of the candidates would like to have people get out and vote in Monday's primary.

While it may not have been designed for that purpose, the action of the Escanaba city council in placing a "time question" advisory ballot before the people for a vote on Monday should help in arousing interest in the primary. If people vote on the question of daylight saving time the year around, it is presumed they will also vote in the non-partisan judgeship contest.

Not that the question of daylight saving time the year around for the city is not important—it is. We had it for about three years during the war and the majority of the people liked that extra hour of daylight in the evening in wintertime as well as they did during the summer months.

DON'T MISS IT—When the Monday primary rolls around, don't miss voting in the first contest (election for circuit judge) in the history of this district. It is a responsibility that you as a citizen should assume along with the privilege of living in a country where the people make the

Q. Has a list ever been published of inventions that are badly needed?

A. Yes, Sir William Bull in England started "What's Wanted," a collection of things to be invented. A similar collection has been made by the magazine "Popular Science."

A. No, it is ginned first. Q. Which president of the U. S. had little or no formal schooling?

Q. What are the rules governing construction of homes under the new "decontrolled" housing program which apply equally to veterans and non-veterans alike?

A. Briefly they are (1) all new dwellings constructed must be for year-round occupancy; (2) total floor area may not exceed 1500 sq. ft. but not including basements, unfinished attics, porches, terraces and garages; (3) only one set of bathroom fixtures may be used; (4) the veteran's preference provisions on sales and rentals for 60 to 90 days respectively are retained. On rental housing there is another provision: the average of rents on dwelling units must not exceed $30 per month, but there may be some added charges for "services" up to a maximum of $3 per room per month.

Q. I operate a tavern and would like to know whether I can claim a veteran tax preferential and be exempt from the federal excise on my juke boxes?

A. The Bureau of Internal Revenue says that veterans enjoy no such preferential excise tax exemption.

Q. What is the Great Barrier Reef?

A. The largest continuous mass of coral in the world. It lies off the north east coast of Australia and extends practically from New Guinea, south of the Fly River delta to about Sandy Cape—a distance of 1,260 statute miles.

Q. Is it dangerous to stand in a house near an open window during a thunder storm?

A. No, unless one is standing near an article, as a screen door, which may attract lightning.

Q. How many cubic inches are there in a pound?

A. 30.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Sen. Styles Bridges' week-end assault on David E. Lilienthal's nomination as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission stems from a source other than Bridges himself.

The New Hampshire Republican merely fired the opening gun in a newly-organized GOP campaign to discredit any Truman appointees who may have served in high federal posts under Franklin Roosevelt.

Taft, self-appointed "King-Fish" of the Republican party on Capitol Hill, has passed down the word that no Democrat of New Dealism tinge is to have any post of importance.

In an informal Friday afternoon caucus of a small coterie of GOP senators, the Ohioan let his views be known, winding up with the observation, "and we might as well begin on Lilienthal."

There followed some discussion as to who would be the first to object to the former TVA chieftain's appointment to the Atomic Energy body.

"Well," concluded Taft, "We will pick someone who comes from an area remote from Tennessee. Styles Bridges lives way up in New England, so he's nominated for the kick-off."

—BACK WAGES FOR LABOR—

It was a quiet, sleepy session of the House Judiciary subcommittee sitting on the Gwynne Bill which would ban all claims for portal-to-portal pay. Big guns of the CIO and the AFL had appeared the day before. Only a few government witnesses plus Irving Richter, UAW-CIO legislative director, were left to be heard.

No newspapermen were on hand, and only three committee members—Reps. John Gwynne of Waterloo, Iowa; Kenneth Keating of New York and Angler Goodwin of Massachusetts—all Republicans, Gwynne gave Richter permission to read a prepared statement.

On the spur of the moment, Richter threw aside his carefully typed statement. Tired of hearing labor constantly on the defensive, he took the offensive. Drawing upon his experience as onetime economist for the labor department's wage and hour division, he said:

"Congressman Gwynne, you speak in your bill about serious inequities and hardships. You refer to the employers' complaint that the law has been unfairly enforced by the administrator and by the courts. If you are interested in 'hardships' and 'serious inequities' you are looking in the wrong direction."

Hurrying lest he be interrupted, Richter accused the wage and hour division of cheating workers out of millions of dollars in back pay through one-sided settlement of disputes. In some cases, he said, no back pay was given even though it was found that employers had been violating the laws for months or years back.

"And where fines were assessed," he continued, "they were so ridiculously low that chiselers were encouraged to violate the law because they were sure to profit in the long run."

Richter read from Trade Journals telling employers how to violate the law by claiming their workers were "Independent Contractors." And as the three congressmen listened in astonished silence, Richter went on to expose sweatshop conditions still existing in many parts of the USA.

—SLAVE CONDITIONS IN 1943—

"These are the conditions this committee should look into," he said. "As late as 1943 I found workers in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina being paid five and six dollars a week, working six days from 'cain't to cain't.' That means: You cain't see when you start work and you cain't see when you quit."

"To get around the law," Richter charged, "employers were calling truck drivers and wood cutters 'Independent Contractors.'"

"Gentlemen," he continued, "why don't you look into the case where 100,000 workers in the wood pulp and paper industry were cheated out of $3,000,000 a month for three years and the settlement was made without a penny of back wages to the men? Why don't you ask the wage and hour division why no single corporation official was convicted, even though there were willful, planned methods of evasion worked out by the industry?"

The Gwynne Bill, he added, would protect these violators not only for the past but for future violations as well. Violations were shown in 37,000 of 42,000 wage and hour division investigations last year, Richter pointed out—"and in less than half these cases—17,082 to be exact—was any back pay given at all."

Congressman Gwynne, author of the portal-to-portal pay ban, shifted nervously in his chair as Richter finished. "No questions," he said and adjourned the meeting.

POTATO WASTE
On page 9 of The Press of Feb. 12, 1947 is the news article "Potato Waste is Deplorable". This article should be read by every citizen of these United States. I quote partially:

"The huge mound of potatoes at the City Dump continues to increase. The Federal Government's policy of destroying food was roundly denounced. There are underprivileged families in the city who could use some of those potatoes. Walter Linderoth stated that he had been instructed to pour kerosene over them to make them unfit for food."

So that's it. That is what our proposed $37,500,000 annual-budget-government in Washington is engaged in. And so, while eminent representatives of our Government are travelling over almost the entire world industriously searching for outlets for the distribution of our resources, tax payments, etc., our authorities decree at the same time that we shall destroy thousands of bushels of good potatoes at Manistique, Mich. and elsewhere, this being not a trivial, local affair but a far more important matter of Federal policy.

We seem to be greatly afraid of alleged food surpluses. What about the Okies, share croppers, fruit pickers, cotton pickers, southern poor whites, Negroes, the slum dwellers of our great cities, to say nothing of the underprivileged, needy families that are to be found up and down the streets of every city of our land. Certainly we have the social security pitance, but we did not get that until the phrase "starvation in the midst of plenty" had become a synonym for a decadent philosophy of affairs having no semblance of relationship to our fundamental American idealism. And so those underprivileged, underfed American citizens will have to stand by and see good food destroyed while facing these shrewd political economists and highly placed, shifty politicians, some of whom are quite capable of issuing orders to bury pigs, throw fruit into the rivers, plow good crops under, pay farmers for not working their farms, and pour kerosene over potatoes "to make them unfit for food". A monstrous travesty considering present world conditions.

The great Statue of Liberty in the harbor of New York City stands facing the sea with arm aloft, holding a lighted torch. On its pedestal are these words:

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses, yearning to breathe free, the wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me. I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

Text and sculpture a grand awe inspiring concept of Americanism. But surely, a consideration of the Manistique affair, implicating as it does our national policies, is not complete without thought of "the poor, the huddled masses, the homeless, tempest-tossed" and in the words of the Manistique City Council "the underprivileged". Else our high humanitarian ideals are prone to become mockeries.

Sam Mackevich, 71, Merchant, Retires

Sam Mackevich, 71-year-old Menominee and Marinette county merchant, left this week for Los Angeles for several months vacation after turning over his Economy store in Marinette to his son, E. A. Mack of Green Bay.

He retired after 30 years as owner and operator of stores in Marinette, and previous enterprises in Peshigo, Koss and Bark River.

Born Jan. 1, 1876 in Poland, he moved to the United States when he was 12 and moved from Rhinelander to Marinette in 1892 and began working at the Siamansky dry goods store.

He operated a store in Koss in Menominee county until the town folded up in 1909 and he opened a store in Bark River and had another store in Peshigo.

Thirty years ago he opened the Style Shop in Marinette and operated the business until eight years ago when it was sold to J. P. Gilbert. The Economy store was established 22 years ago and upon his retirement this week he turned it over to his son.

Arrest Four After Highway Accidents

Francis Van Landschoot, 21, of Munising, yesterday pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Ranguette's court to a reckless driving charge and paid a fine and costs of $58.25 following his arrest with three other men at 2:30 a. m. Thursday by officers of the sheriff's department following two car accidents on US-241 near Bay View.

Deputy Sheriffs Clarence Johnson and Emil Johnson reported that Van Landschoot was driving west on the highway about 50 miles an hour when his car skidded from one side of the road to the other and then turned over. With Van Landschoot was Phillip Cosgrove, 19, of Gladstone, who paid a $5 fine and costs yesterday for being disorderly.

After the Van Landschoot car rolled over the driver and Cosgrove walked to a telephone, reported the accident and returned to their car. As they arrived on the scene a car driven by Robert O'Donnell, 43, of 304 South 15th street, struck the overturned car and pushed it down the roadway 80 feet, officers said. With O'Donnell was Walter F. Groff, 33, Escanaba.

When officers arrived they reported they found the four men "all drunk and fighting". Yesterday O'Donnell pleaded not guilty to a drunk driving charge and will be given examination in Justice Ranguette's court. Groff pleaded not guilty to a disorderly charge and also will be given trial.

FLUFFY BLANKETS
Keeping your woolen blankets warm, fluffy and attractive is no great trick. Fold them evenly when not in use to prevent stretching and loss of shape. Don't pile weight on folded, stored blankets. Flattening nap means reducing warmth. Shake out carefully and air out of doors frequently with weight distributed evenly over double clothesline. Dry clean before storing in moth-proof closets to destroy possible moths or use reliable commercial storage.

Valentine Feast May Date
Back To Time Of Caesar

Those lacy cards and red heart-shaped boxes of candy sent on Valentine's Day have nothing to do with St. Valentine, according to Britannica Junior, the encyclopedia for children.

Although there are seven St. Valentines listed in the "Acts of the Saints" and February 14 is the saint's day for them all, no connection has been found between the saints and the holiday as it is celebrated today.

It is thought that the customs of the holiday are instead, a continuation in modified form of an ancient Roman festival called the "Lupercalia," which occurred on February 15 and was something like a carnival.

In the 1700's the customs of Valentines Day were indicative of serious romance. It was a general belief that the first person of the opposite sex whom one met on that day would be one's Valentine for the whole year and perhaps for life.

"One young damsel," says Britannica Junior, "wrote in 1754, 'I lay abed and shut my eyes all the morning till he came to our house, for I would not have seen another man before him for all the world.'"

Sometimes the young people held a lottery on St. Valentine's eve when the names of the girls were put into a box and were drawn at random by the young men. Then each pair would exchange gifts and each would be the other's "Valentine" for the year.

To help literary youths, who preferred to write and decorate their own Valentines, a book was published in 1797 called "Cabinet of Love, or Cupid's Repository of Choice Valentines." Here the young man could find almost any verse he wanted in almost any degree of sentiment to send to his Valentine.

20th Century Reaction
In recent years Valentines have come to be necessary part of the celebration of Valentine's Day.

Forty to fifty years ago an enamored young swain created a valentine for his lady and placed it in a box provided and decorated by teacher. Our modern youth is facilitated with a dime store where he is able to choose both sentiment and decoration to suit his fancy. The little school-boy of years ago also purchased a special valentine for teacher on general principles. Our modern generation has developed and endeavored to outdo the sentimentalism of the past.

Valentine's Day was, in years gone by, looked upon as a feast second only to that of Christmas but has come to be accepted by the Johnnies and Marys of today as just another day when perhaps he or she might be invited to a party given by a fellow student. Of course class parties are a traditional affair enabling each pupil to vie with rest to see which of them receives the most Valentines, a measure of his popularity, and thus who is the better man or woman.

The Valentines in themselves have altered with the passing of time; the fancy frills and lace being replaced by a color print having a sentimental verse. The Valentines sold most this year seem to be of the sentimental nature with the comic variety lagging by the wayside.

Though Valentines were in all past years seen in little or great abundance, the custom of purchasing a gift for the loved one of one's heart is of recent origin. The gifts previously received included only candy and flowers. Of late gifts of jewelry and silver have come into the limelight.

Gifts Now Popular
The heart motif for women's jewelry always popular — has reached a new high this year, according to the Jewelry Industry.

fore Rev. W. J. Grace, S. J. The Jesu choir sang the music of the wedding mass.

The attendants were Miss Audrey Elliott of Kingsford, sister of the bride as maid of honor, Mrs. H. W. Baker of Milwaukee as bridesmaid, while Lloyd Baker of Wells and H. W. Baker of Milwaukee attended the groom. Charles Edward Olsen of Escanaba, cousin of the bride, and Robert Elliott of Kingsford, brother of the bride, were the ushers.

The bride wore a bridal gown of white, fashioned with a satin bodice with a marquisette inset neckline of beaded work, and a skirt with a bustle ending in a train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by an orange blossom headpiece. For the traditional, something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue, the bride wore as old and borrowed a crystal necklace from a friend, Mary Boho. The necklace formerly belonged to Miss Boho's grandmother. Something new, was the rhinestone earrings, a gift from the groom, and something blue was a white lace handkerchief with pale blue worked in. The maid of honor wore a blue taffeta gown with a fitted bodice, three-quarter length sleeves, a bustle back, a full skirt, and a headpiece of blue flowers with a pink veil. Mrs. Baker wore a pink gown identical to that worn by the maid of honor and a headpiece of pink flowers with a blue veil. Both carried colonial bouquets of roses, speetpeas, carnations and baby breath with pink and blue taffeta streamers.

Mrs. Wery, mother of the groom, wore a brown wool dress with brown accessories and Mrs. Swanson, sister and guardian of the bride, wore an aqua crepe dress with black accessories. Each wore a shoulder bouquet of red roses.

A wedding breakfast was served at Forrest Keller, a restaurant in Milwaukee, for fifteen relatives and dinner was served for twenty-five guests, also at Forrest Keller's. A three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom formed the centerpiece. A reception and dance for seventy-five relatives and friends was given at Greenfield Hall in the evening.

The bride, a graduate of Kingsford high school, is employed by the Gas Specialty Co. of Kingsford. The groom is a graduate of St. Joseph high school and is employed at the Milwaukee Road freight depot in Milwaukee. He served with the 82nd Air Borne Division in Europe for three years.

For her going away costume the bride chose a Glenn plaid suit with black accessories, completed by a shoulder corsage of roses, carnations and sweetpeas. While on their honeymoon they visited Chicago, Evansville, St. Louis, Mo., and Louisville, Ky. The couple will reside at 531 North 14th street in Milwaukee.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. John Wery and Lloyd Baker of Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Severson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Safranek and Robert Elliott of Kingsford.

POLICE CAR DELINQUENT

Port Huron (P)—Patrolman Arthur C. Westphal couldn't be blamed if he felt a bit sentimental while handing out a ticket to an accused speeder this week. Investigation showed the reportedly speeding car was the police cruiser, which Westphal drove for several years before the city sold it recently. "I'm surprised the car would do such thing," the officer commented.

Record Maker Got His Start In Poker Game

BY W. G. ROGERS

(P) Arts Reporter

New York—Back in the gay old New York of 1920, a young visitor from Philadelphia lost his last $100 in a poker game.

His name was Edward Wallerstein. Graduate of Haverford and veteran of World War I, he had saved a neat pile at jobs in midwestern oilfields and he decided to satisfy a hankering to spend it in the big town. By the time he had had his fun, he was started along the road which led to the presidency of Columbia Recording Corporation and a directorship in Columbia Broadcasting System.

Sitting in on the poker game, Wallerstein recalls gratefully today, was a friend "with connections" which secured him a position as salesman for Brunswick records. From 1933 to 1938 he was with RCA Victor, and joined Columbia in 1939.

He had always been deeply interested in music, and was a super with the Philadelphia Opera. For a quarter century music has been his major interest. Despite his graying and thinning hair, he seems young; he enjoys fishing, yachting, cards, and above all making records.

Columbia's present production of 250,000 records a day is three times what it was at the end of the war, says Wallerstein, but still only about 60 per cent of estimated demand, and the company is doubling its manufacturing facilities.

In the first quarter of the century, total record output by all firms probably did not exceed 125,000 in any year; the 1946 total may have been 300,000,000, and the 1947 figure, Wallerstein predicts, may reach 500,000,000. The big jump in production came when the old-type horn was replaced by electrical recording, making possible the reproduction of such large works as symphonies.

Columbia plans to divide its output this year so that, on a unit basis, it will be 80 per cent popular works and 20 per cent Masterworks or classical and standard numbers; in dollar volume, that will be 65 per cent pops, 35 per cent Masterworks.

Classicals Mean Work

Classical and standard recordings are gaining, even though slowly. They mean harder work, too. They are made to last, while pops records often have a life of only six months.

"I have fun doing business with the artists who are proverbially so hard to do business with," Wallerstein says. "Actually, they are easy to get along with. The greatest fun is in learning to understand them, to understand their problems, and then to realize they understand our problems, too."

Columbia has a list of 62 artists and ensembles for the Masterworks and Wallerstein believes that Columbia's help in popularizing them has advanced importantly the careers of such favorites as Kostelanetz, Levant, Traubel and others. The New York Philharmonic, he points out, never did much in the record field until it signed with Columbia in 1941.

"Columbia has never lost an artist with whom it had a contract," he says.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

YOUR SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED
ON FEBRUARY 17th

THANK YOU!

This is a message to all those people who gave so generously of their time and talents to put on the Ice Show, "Fairylend Fantasy". It is a tremendous job to put on so beautiful a show and one that could not be accomplished without the full cooperation of everyone. Those of us who are doing the skating want you to feel that all of you are a part of the show. Your help in designing, costuming, sewing, decorating, directing and lighting and the planning of the Executive Board, along with all the mothers and fathers of the skaters, who spent many anxious and troubled hours through it all, is greatly appreciated. The show is not over yet, and when it is, I hope that each and every one of you will be able to breathe a sigh of relief for a job well done. You have contributed a great deal toward making Escanaba the center of figure skating in the Upper Peninsula, a fact that you, and we skaters, as well, can be mighty proud of.

THEY WALK IN BEAUTY TODAY

U. P. Cities Send Their Fairest Here Seeking Northern Queen Crown

By noon today, Escanaba will have more than its share of queens, come to vie with Escanaba's own Queen Patsy for the crown of Queen of the North.

Queens from Marquette, Houghton, the Ontonagon country, Newberry, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Gladstone will arrive this noon with their chaperons and register in the lobby of the Ludington, where they will receive instructions and a program of the entertainment provided for them.

This afternoon they are scheduled for a fun frolic at Gladstone Winter Sports Park. Tonight they will attend an informal dinner at the Sherman hotel, and then the Ice Revue, "Fairland Fantasy," as guests of the Escanaba Figure Skating club and the City Recreation Department.

The queens and their chaperons will wind up the supervised portion of their evening at Club 314, city recreation department Escanaba Youth Center.

Saturday morning, after an informal breakfast at the Sherman, the girls will be allowed a free period for shopping or just resting. At noon they attend a luncheon at the Delta hotel at which they are requested to wear snowsuits.

The formal Queen of the North dinner will be held Saturday night at the Ludington hotel, after an afternoon of sports activities at Ludington park. At the banquet in the marine room the 1947 Winter Queen will be announced.

Judging Of Queens
There will be no formal parade of queens, at which the judges must make an almost instantaneous decision.

Instead, the representatives of various Upper Peninsula cities will be under the supervision of the judges—chosen from outside, non-participating communities—from the time of their arrival until the moment of announcement.

The girls will be judged according to the same schedule by which Patsy Ammel was selected as Escanaba's Carnival Queen. Thirty points are allotted for sports activities; twenty-five points for personality; twenty points for photogenic qualities; poise, fifteen points; and voice, ten points.

The coronation ceremony will take place Saturday evening at the Ice Revue. Much thought and care has been lavished on these ceremonies.

Opposition Develops For 7 Township Supervisors

In the primary election Monday voters in seven of Delta county's 14 townships will be offered contests for the office of supervisor, and in some townships there are three candidates for that office.

The supervisors nominated will have their names on the ballot for the April 7 election, and the winner of that contest will represent his township on the Delta county board of supervisors. The county board will meet in reorganization session following the April election, when it will elect a chairman and name standing committees for the board.

In connection with a statement to the county board in its January session by Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle that townships must offer voters a primary ballot whether there is opposition or not, Supervisor Harold Gustafson of Benign township yesterday said that townships were not required to have primary ballots where no opposition exists. Supervisor Gustafson said yesterday that he had telephoned Atty. Gen. Eugene Black at Lansing, and Black had said the primary ballots were unnecessary when all the candidates filing nominating petitions for township offices were unopposed.

Following is a list of the townships and the candidates seeking nomination for township offices:

Bay de Noc township—For supervisor, Bernhard Mattson, incumbent; clerk, Hans Lorenson; treasurer, Martin Erickson; justice of the peace, two years, Loyal Sigfreds and Arthur Lorenson (only contest on township ballot); justice of the peace, four years, William Carroll; board of review, four years, Rudolph Leadman; board of review, two years, Arthur Sundstrom.

Independent ticket: Supervisor, Wallace Wolf; clerk, Mildred Johnson; treasurer, Raymond Tackman; justice of the peace, James Sinclair and Matt Gaus; board of review, John Borak and Wilbur Cowell.

Garden township—For supervisor, Albert J. Tattrow and Elmer LaCost (only opposition on ticket); clerk, George Boudreau; treasurer, Ossie Hazen; board of review, Edward Joque; justice of the peace, Harold Beach and Albert Newman; justice to fill vacancy, Stanley Joque.

Cornell township—For supervisor, Fred Holmes, incumbent, and Loren Barron; clerk, Dorothy Woodard; treasurer, Wallace Campbell; justice of the peace to fill vacancy, Alex Carlson and Joseph Terrien; justice, four years, Fred Kickbush and Ted McFadden; board of review, John Budinger and Adolph Gagner.

Wells township—Township ticket: For supervisor, Ole J. Thorsen, incumbent; clerk, Jacob A. Groos; treasurer, Phil S. Clark; justice of the peace, August Severinsen; justice of the peace, Thomas J. Pelletier; board of review, Thomas A. Bedard and Marvin K. Ford. Citizens Party: For supervisor, Vernon White; treasurer, Joseph Berube; justice of the peace, Charles Sedquist and William L. Casey; board of review, Joseph L. Whitney.

Baldwin township—No opposition and no ballot. List of candidates unreported.

Maple Ridge township—Township ticket: For supervisor, Walter Manntle, incumbent; clerk, Frank V. Salmi; treasurer, Martin Kaminen; justice of the peace, John Koski and John Norman, Jr.; board of review, Emil DeBacker; constable, Edwin Ruohonen. Progressive ticket: For supervisor, Clarence J. Larson; clerk, Leslie E. Maki; treasurer, Leslie Viitala; justice of the peace, Jule DePuydt; board of review, Albert Juneau; constable, Elmer Lepisto.

Nahma township—Township primary is on the caucus plan, and the caucuses will be held sometime in March, 20 days before the April 7 election, to nominate candidates.

Masonville township—(No ballot because there is no opposition). But the nominees are: For supervisor, Joseph Casimir, incumbent; clerk, Hilda Johnson; treasurer, Edna Young; justice of the peace, Carl Stenlund and John Miller; board of review, Carl Vietzke and Carl Stenlund.

Bark River township—For supervisor, Omer Tanguay, incumbent, and William Zick; clerk, John R. Anderson; treasurer, William H. Bowler; justice of the peace, Frank J. Bugay and Joseph Lavigne; board of review, Thomas LaFleur.

Girl Scout Notes

Because the Girl Scout Council wishes every Brownie and Scout in Manistique to wear a uniform, an appeal is being made to anyone who has a Senior, Intermediate or Brownie uniform which is not in use, to offer it for sale. Anyone having such a uniform will please notify Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur.

The proceeds from the lunches served by the Girl Scouts at the ski meet were $56.00. This will be divided among the Scout troops to be used for uniforms or camping.

Mrs. N. L. Lindquist was hostess to the Girl Scout Leaders association on Monday evening.

At the meeting plans were discussed for an ice carnival for all Girl Scouts and Brownies to be held on Saturday, March 1. Final plans were made for the March 15 rally which will be held to celebrate the 35th birthday of Girl Scouting in America.

While Valentine parties seem to be the high light in Girl Scout troop activities this week, the girls are all hard at work on their programs for the rally to be held on March 15.

The West Side Brownies are learning to knit.

The East Side Brownie troops are making attractive little Brownie aprons.

The Senior Troop held a "sing" at one of their recent meetings. Assisted by Mrs. O. Schuster and Mrs. Don McLean, the girls had a lively evening of music, reviving their old songs and learning a number of new ones.

This troop is planning a winter track meet at the gun club next Saturday. Their program includes a hike to the site on Saturday morning, cooking their dinner in the club house, skiing, snowshoeing, relays and races.

The Intermediates seem to be especially interested in badge work right now. Evidently they are determined to be 100 per cent Second Class Scouts by the end of the year. One troop is making leather coin purses.

City Briefs

Fred Bousley of Goodman, Wis. is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gauthier.

Miss Gertrude New, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph New, North Cedar street, underwent an appendectomy on Thursday at the Shaw hospital.

Mrs. Carl Johnson and three sons of Hinsdale, Ill., and Miss Ruth Setters of Chicago, attended the funeral services here on Wednesday of their aunt, Miss Elizabeth Setters.

Mrs. Bernie Gilroy, former resident of this city, now residing in Port Huron, is critically ill, according to word received here.

Issues SOS For More Men's Voices
For Choral Club

Men who like to sing—men with resonant and rumbly bass voices or tenors who really can whoop 'or up—are urgently needed in the Manistique Choral Club which will present a concert some time near Easter.

This musical organization, which thrilled local music lovers last December with its presentation of Handel's "Messiah," resumed practice last Monday evening. The attendance at the practice was good and the enthusiasm unanimous, but the need for more men's voices was noticeable. Mrs. James Fyvie, the director reports.

Much of the music to be given at the Eastertime concert is Russian music of the old school. This type of choral music calls for close harmony in heavy volume and for that reason a good representation of men's voices is an urgent matter.

Practices begin Monday evenings at 7:30 o'clock and are being held in the music room of the junior high school. The practices will begin sharply at the appointed time and end promptly one hour later.

Social

Pre-Nuptial Shower

Over fifty neighbors and friends gathered at the Ross Klagstad home on U. S. 2 on Wednesday evening for a shower given for Miss Edith Klagstad, who will become the bride of Frederick Cota on Saturday, February 15.

Cards were played during the evening with prizes being won by

William Butler Makes Regular Trips To Manistique

Although William Butler, contact representative from the Veterans Administration, makes weekly trips to Manistique to aid veterans of both World Wars with their problems, it appears that this fact is not very well known and should be treated as news. The Schoolcraft County Office of Veterans Affairs suggests.

Mr. Butler is with the regional office of the U. S. Veterans Administration at Escanaba and he visits the vets' council office here every Monday.

In the course of the past year, he has contacted hundreds of veterans, given them advice with reference to compensation, hospitalization and the filling out of intricate forms that must be attended to in most instances.

He has also rendered invaluable service to the veterans counselor and has added to the efficiency of the local office.

Veterans seeking his advice should call at the office on Mondays.

Junior High School Students Will Have Valentine Party

The Manistique junior high school will have a Valentine's Day party on February 14 from 7 to 10:30 o'clock in the junior high school study hall. There will be games, dancing and refreshments.

The committee in charge of the party is composed of Gail Lundstrom, Natalie Ammann, Dorothy Jean Carlson, Margo Viergiver, Marlene Anderson, Walter Scharstrom, George Babladelis and Donald Larson.

All junior high students and teachers are invited to attend.

Already used in constructing stabilizers for the F4U-4 Corsair is Metalite, a featherweight material possessing tremendous strength beneath a mirror-like exterior.

DUMPED POTATOES SALVAGED—Scores of men, women and children hurried to the Manistique municipal dump recently to salvage what they could of the tons of potatoes dumped there by order of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Bags, boxes, bushel baskets and other containers were used to carry away the spuds, which were free for the taking.

Tips for Farmers

The chances are that this year the alfalfa seed you buy may not have been produced in Michigan. Last year's production in the state will take care of less than half of the amount normally planted by Michigan farmers.

County Agricultural Agent J. L. Heirman warns that you should be very careful when buying seed to make sure that it is adapted to Michigan growing conditions.

Unfortunately, the rest of the northern states did not produce sufficient seed for their use, either, and much seed that was produced in the central states will have to be used. Seed grown in these states is not as hardy, but it can be expected to yield nearly as well as Michigan seed for a year or two.

If you have not yet secured your seed, your choices should be made in about this order:

1. Certified Hardigan, Grimm or Ladak.
2. Uncertified Michigan or Canadian grown.
3. Common alfalfa from northern United States.

4. Common alfalfa from central United States.

County Agent Heirman recommends that you obtain your alfalfa seed now. If you wait until time to sow, you may have to take seed that is not too well adapted to Michigan conditions or you may be left without any seed.

SUPERVISORS MEET TUESDAY

Will Review Complaints And Criticisms of Road Commission

Munising.—The Alger county board of supervisors will meet on Tuesday, February 18, to stage a full scale review of complaints and criticism of the Alger county road commission.

The board meeting was previously scheduled to meet February 11, but was cancelled at that time because of a delay in acquiring reports and information regarding the case, Board Chairman J. W. Knox said.

The supervisors' highway and bridges committee, assigned to investigate the case, will meet Friday at 9 p. m. to compile their findings prior to presentation at the meeting of the board of supervisors Tuesday, it was reported.

Munising.—The temperature in Munising took a turn for the better the middle of this week and rose to a high of 29 degrees on Wednesday, providing enough of a change to give local folks a taste of spring fever and put them in the mood for Valentine's Day today.

According to the weekly weather report of Albert Oas, local weather observer, the change in temperature during the week's period ranged from a low of zero recorded on Thursday, February 6, to the high of 29 degrees on Wednesday Feb. 12. The average temperature was 13.1 degrees.

Beginning with the report on Thursday and up until Monday, February 10, a total of 16.1 inches of snow fell. This, accompanied by high winds, made local residents all the more appreciative of the thaw occurring Wednesday and also gave them the illusion that spring might be right around the corner.

The complete report for the period Feb. 6 to 12 submitted by Mr. Oas was as follows:

Date	High	Low	Precip.
February 6	12	0	3
February 7	8	5	3
February 8	16	4	1.7
February 9	5	12	1.3
February 10	25	19	0.1
February 11	21	3	0
February 12	29	3	0

Mr. Norby urges all veterans to take advantage of his counselor service whenever they have problems confronting them. He is especially prepared to give assistance on matters pertaining to insurance, GI schooling and hospitalization, he stated.

Mustangs Play Baraga Tonight At Marquette

Munising.—Munising's Mather high school Mustangs basketball team will go out of town again this evening when they travel to Marquette to play the Baraga parochial school quintet at 8:30 p. m.

Although the Mustangs have been on the low end of the scores in a number of games this season, they still have fight left in them and will give the Baraga boys a run for it tonight. This will be the first time the two teams have met this season.

The Mather high "B" team will travel to Grand Marais to engage that team in a game to begin at 7:15 p. m.

Alger Democrats To Pick Chairman At Meet Tonight

Munising.—Alger county Democrats will meet at the Munising court house Friday, Feb. 16, at 8 p. m. to elect a committee chairman to fill the vacancy created when Everett Lezotte resigned that position Feb. 5.

Present officers are: Mrs. Arlene Pelletier, vice chairman; Mrs. Virginia Alexander, secretary; and John Tervo, treasurer.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Munising.—Mrs. Minnie Brown and Mrs. J. A. Vizona won high honors at the Nacomica Bridge club meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. O'Brien Wednesday.

Lunch was served following the card games.

U.P. Boxers Compete In Golden Glove Finals At Milwaukee Tonight

INJURY PUTS ENYART OUT

Sault Fighter Received Severe Cut On His Mouth

Five Upper Peninsula boxers are scheduled to compete in the final round of the Milwaukee Golden Glove tournament at the Auditorium in Milwaukee tonight, but one of the U. P. lads, Eugene Enyart, of the Michigan College of Mines branch at Sault Ste. Marie, will have to default in the 160 pound novice championship match. Enyart, regarded by many of the boxing sharpshooters at the Milwaukee tournament as the outstanding lad in the middleweight novice division, sustained a severe cut on his mouth Tuesday night and physicians ruled him out of action for the finals. The wound required three stitches.

Glenn Ray, the 118 pound open division lad from Soo, Ontario, will have to fight two matches Friday to attain his goal in the bantamweight open class. Ray will meet Robert Turner, of the Urban League, Milwaukee, in the second bout of the 23-bout card tonight, and if he gets by that one, he will oppose Eugene Kirk, of the Harvester Club, in the finals, the 20th bout of the night. Kirk drew a bye in the semi-finals.

Robert Barnes, Manistique novice heavyweight, faces a tough lad, Milton Rickun, of Milwaukee, in the semi-finals of the heavyweight division tonight. He is scheduled for the eighth bout of the night and if he wins, Barnes will be back in action for the 23rd bout of the night.

Joe Burnette, the Popular Joe Burnette, Soo, Ontario flyweight, the darling of the Milwaukee tournament, will meet George Baumann, of the Urban League, Milwaukee, in the finals of the 112 lb. novice tournament in the 13th bout of the evening.

Joe scored a tremendous hit in the semi-final matches Tuesday night, in which he scored two decisive decisions. Burnette was offered a scholarship at Marquette University, but because he had not completed his high school education, Joe was ineligible for the honor.

Burnette wanted an opportunity to meet a colored lad in the Tuesday night matches and he got his wish, being paired with George Hudson, Milwaukee, unattached, in his first match. Burnette gave the colored boy a neat trimming, and he came back later in the night to score a decisive victory over George Grodon, of Oconomowoc.

Wayne Anderson, of Manistique, is in the finals of the 118 pound novice tournament as a result of a victory by default Tuesday night. He will oppose Donnie Barnes of Oconomowoc in the championship match tonight, the 14th bout of the evening.

Enyart Is Out
The injury sustained by Enyart in his semi-final match with Bud Shifter, of LaCrosse, Tuesday night, was a bad break for the Upper Peninsula team. Shifter unintentionally butted Enyart with his head in the second round, opening a bad cut inside the lower lip. Enyart went on to win the decision, but it was a costly one as the Soo, Mich. boy was ruled out of the finals because of the injury.

The Upper Peninsula team may have landed seven men in the finals except for two tough breaks. Orman Nanne, of Soo, Ont., was unable to compete in the Milwaukee tournament because of illness. His opponent, Don Luck, of Oconomowoc, also failed to appear.

Don Daugherty, the Manistique middleweight novice boxer, would have had an excellent chance to get into the finals in his division but Daugherty was unable to make the 148 pound limit. He weighed in at 152½ and a steam bath, plus a stiff workout, removed only one pound. Daugherty returned to Manistique to participate in a basketball game with the Manistique high school team Wednesday night.

Out of town boxers almost eclipsed the Milwaukee lads in the Tuesday night semi-finals. Out of town boxers of zone tournaments in LaCrosse, Oconomowoc, Marshfield, Wauwatosa and Escanaba landed 21 men in the finals. Milwaukee qualified 23 boys for the championship rounds. All of the boys representing the Upper Peninsula at the Milwaukee tournament are listed in the tournament programs by their qualifying center, Escanaba.

There will not be a radio broadcast of the Golden Glove finals tonight.

MORE HAY FOR TRIPPI

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 13/47—Charlie Trippi's latest business opportunity is to become a wrestling referee at $2,000 weekly for five appearances a week.

George Cazana, Knoxville promoter, today wired the University of Georgia athlete a proposition "authorized by a wrestling syndicate."

ACTION AT GOLDEN GLOVES—Joe Burnette, 112 pound novice of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., won the hearts of the Golden Glove tournament fans at Milwaukee Tuesday night with his display of gameness and clean fighting. Here he is shown fighting with John Gibson of Oconomowoc, whom he defeated. Burnette will meet George Baumann of Milwaukee in the finals tonight.

Hermansville Sponsors Gold Medal Tournament

Hermansville—Plans were announced yesterday for the ninth annual Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin Gold Medal amateur basketball tournament which will be held at the Hermansville Community club March 18-23.

Glenn Fleetwood, manager of the tourney, said entry blanks will be sent to all teams as soon as they arrive here. Teams from every section of the Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin will be invited.

"This tournament is the largest of its kind ever staged in the Peninsula," Fleetwood said. Last year 38 teams were entered with Niagara Badgers taking honors in Class A and Trout Creek taking Class B honors. Both teams are expected to defend their crowns this year.

The tourney this year will again be divided into two divisions, Class A and Class B with the same awards for each division.

Plans have already been completed as to the broadcasting of the championship finals of both classes on March 23.

Michigan high school accredited officials will be in charge of all games.

Rapid River, Mich.—Rapid River lost to Felch by a 47 to 38 score in an exciting basketball game played at Felch Tuesday night.

In a preliminary game, the Felch Reserves defeated Rapid River's second stringers, 23 to 16. Treary will play at Rapid River Friday night. The preliminary will start at 7:15 and the main game at 8:15.

GRODESKY GOES TO IRONWOOD

Jumps Sunday For The Chance To Ride In The Ishpeming Nationals

Just returned from St. Paul where he placed 14th in the Class B competition of the Central Ski Association Meet last weekend, John Grodesky, Escanaba's lone ski rider, leaves tomorrow for Ironwood to jump in the Gogebic Range Ski Club Meet next Sunday.

The young ex-marine will be jumping not only against some of the outstanding talent of the middle west, but he'll be jumping for a chance to ride Ishpeming's Suicide Hill in the national meet to be held there Feb. 22-23. Upon his showing Sunday, depends Grodesky's appearance in the Ishpeming Nationals. In order to be eligible for Suicide Hill, Grodesky must place in the first ten at Ironwood.

The meet Sunday will probably be the first meet Grodesky has been able to enter without an argument. Skiing all season without the moral backing of a club duly organized and recognized by the Central Ski Association, Grodesky has been like a lone falcon among a bunch of Cooper's hawks. At each meet, in order to show his right to enter, he has had to produce proof and papers out of the pocket of his ski pants, at the head of the hill.

The Escanaba Ski club joined the Central Association some time ago in order to relieve Escanaba's sole representative of the psychological disadvantage of riding unknown, unattached, and unsupported. But due to faulty or dilatory clerical work, at national headquarters, the membership was not recorded at the time of the St. Paul meet last Sunday.

If he places among the first ten at Ironwood—and only a bad runaway relegated him to 14th place on form in Class B at St. Paul—Grodesky will be jumping, Feb. 22-23, in the National Meet at Ishpeming.

Weather Slows Up Grade School Meet; Remainder Canceled

Under adverse snow conditions which forced the cancellation of further events, the grade school ski and sled meet sponsored by the city recreation department was held yesterday afternoon at Ludington Park, under the supervision of Doris Costley of the recreation department.

There were 65 entries, of whom only two were girls. The flat skiing race was won by David Erickson; Tommy Dishneau, second; Dickie Moreau, third.

The cross-country skiing race was won by Tommy Dishneau; Dickie Moreau, second; David Erickson, third.

The downhill race for distance was won by Maxine Bernsten; Dickie Hansen was second; David Erickson, third.

The downhill sled race was won by Larry Shanahan; Joe Schuster, second; and Benny Brauer, third.

Eskymos To Play Menominee Quint Saturday Night

The Eskymos journey to Menominee on Saturday, in a slight variation of the usual high school custom of playing their basketball games on Friday, to tangle with Menominee high school's quintet Saturday night.

Coch Rouman will take along the regular traveling squad, but he has made a few shifts and passes in and among them seeking a scoring combination. Pryal has been swung back to guard, and Abrahamson tried out in the forward spot. Gustafson has been getting considerable play at center this week.

Coach Rouman refuses to promise anything in regard to the Menominee game, but he does claim that the Escanaba lads are looking a little better under the other guy's basket. The eyes have improved.

Hermansville Five To Play 'Stique Hubs Saturday

Manistique—The Silver Foxes of Hermansville meet the Manistique Hubs at the old gym here Saturday evening.

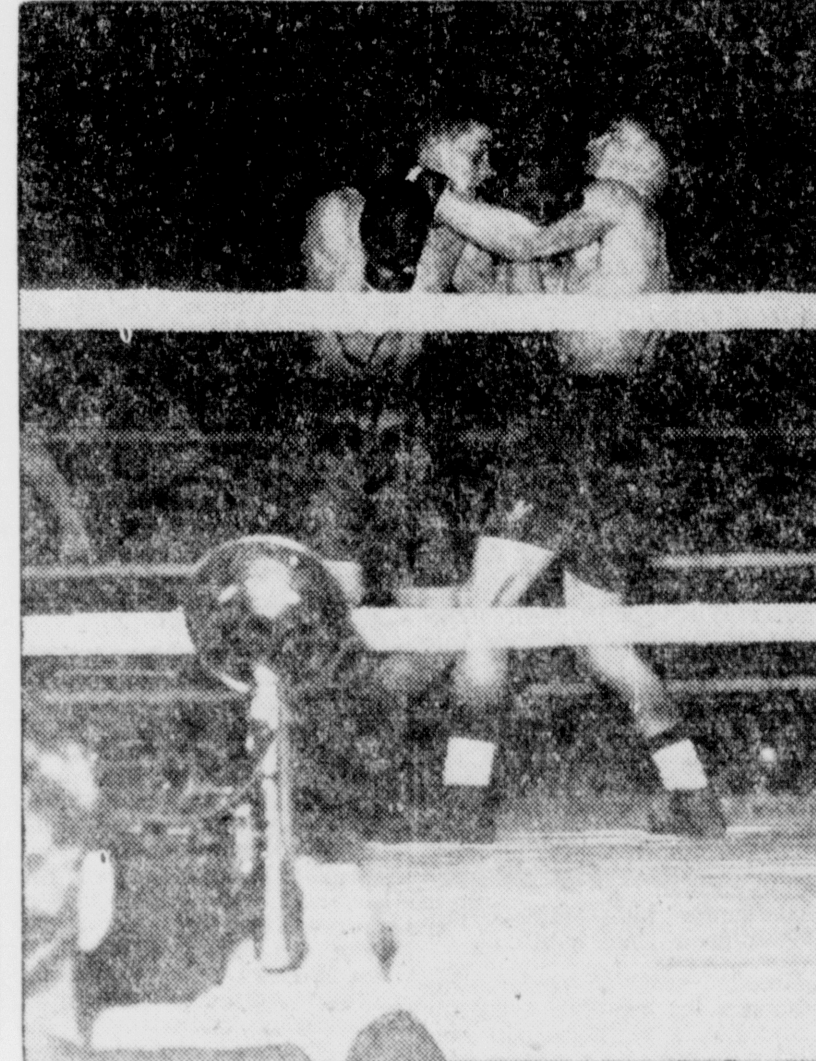

In this engagement the Hubs, who through the season have led the Manistique City League, will try and overcome the jinx that has dogged them the last couple of weeks. The Hubs have played hard and have come within an ace of winning several contests of late, but victory has been a sort of will o' the wisp.

A preliminary game will be played between the high school reserves and the juniors.

DINOSAUR LONGEVITY

Man speculates as to what weaknesses in the make-up of dinosaurs led to their disappearance after 140,000,000 years of supremacy on earth, yet man has reigned only a few thousands of years.

Honolulu's average rainfall is 24.97 inches annually, but three miles inland, some areas have yearly averages up to 100 inches.

MIXING IT UP—Morley Ostertag, 126 novice of Sault Ste. Marie, and Richard Monkman of Waukesha had a tough fight on Tuesday night. Ostertag was leading in the first two rounds, but Monkman scored a TKO in the third round.

ROAD TRIP NEXT FOR U. M. SQUAD

Games With Purdue And Iowa Booked By Wolverines

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 13 (P)—The Michigan basketball team, dumped from second to fourth place by Wisconsin in the Western Conference standings, began a road trip today that will include games with Iowa and Purdue.

The Wolverines will appear Saturday at Iowa City, Iowa, for the first time since 1945, to meet the eighth-place Hawkeyes, victims of a five-game losing streak on opponents courts.

Michigan Coach Ozzie Cowles said he plans to use his starting lineup with leading Wolverine scorer Mack Suprunowicz and Boyd McCaslin at forwards, Bill Roberts at center and Bon Harrison and Capt. Pete Elliott at guards.

Coach Pops Harrison plans to use Stan Straasma, a comparative newcomer, at forward and move Guard Herb Wilkinson to center in an effort to revive Iowa's scoring punch.

Although the Hawkeyes have won only two out of eight league games, while the Wolverines have won four out of seven, Cowles figures they may be due for a comeback.

His own team's possibilities are uncertain, mainly because of the rugged and ordered Wolverines weathered in defeating Ohio State 56-53, and losing to Wisconsin 52-51. Michigan was "up" for Wisconsin and outplayed the league leader almost to the finish, only to have a pair of free throws decide the issue in the final three seconds.

Monday night Michigan goes to Lafayette, Ind., where the Purdue Boilermakers will be waiting to avenge the 66-43 beating they absorbed at Ann Arbor on Jan. 18.

'Fairyland Fantasy' Is Masterpiece Of Music And Magic

Last night before an enthusiastic crowd, the Escanaba Figure Skating Club presented the first performance of this year's ice revue, "Fairyland Fantasy."

It is a most ambitious and impressive performance, though it had the flaws of timing and of rhythm so often found in first night performances. But it is a show, gentlemen, really a show, with the solidity of hard work and hard thinking back of it.

The Fairyland backdrop is a beautiful thing and most effectively lighted, and the costuming is out of this world.

The ice of the rink is marked with a golden star, with color rays out from it. The lighting is extremely effective.

There is no fairness at all to the opening number for the Caterpillars and the Flowers and the Butterflies and the Bumblebees are in it, and they're all little kids, completely natural little kids playing at make-believe with the naturalness—the almost grim seriousness or the sly humor—little kids have for make-believe. And they're costumed and fixed up out there on the ice, as a child's dream itself, and sweet as an old man wishes his memories were.

And there were the Black Birds and the Canaries and the Blue Birds. The Lightning Bug, who is Billy Goodreau. And the Sugar Plum Fairy, who is Mary Goodreau, and a darling, and a beautiful and astounding skater.

Howard Dufour and his daughter Maxine were lovely to see in the Stepping-Out-With-Daddy number, moving through it like dancers and like skaters, which is a more difficult trick than one would believe.

Jo Ann Beck near made one believe in fairies in her Snow Maiden solo. And Helen Schwalbach with her black costume and her long legs had the audience howling for more before she could make a complete exit.

Jeanne Groos, who has showmanship within her, enough almost to hide the power of her skating beneath the beauty of her performance, skated or danced—whichever the word is, though it should be both—the Sleeping Beauty number.

Patsy Saul and Maxine Dufour are skaters. Let that be said before any mention is made of the beauty and the sweetness of their double number. They are good, very good.

The "black-light" number was most impressive. In costumes with specially treated strippings the gypsies moved in streaks and swoops of eerie color under the invisible infra red light, while Mary Groos, the gypsy queen, moved, darting and flashing, a streak of jagged orange light in and out among them all.

Ferdinand, the bull, appears too seldom. A good deal of attention could be devoted to the act of the Hebert brothers if one wished to examine the sociological, philosophical, and physiological aspects of such a partner and such partnership. But their appearance was too brief to allow intimate study. They should appear more often.

BANKS HAVE NO SMALL CHANGE

British Housewives Go After Scalps Of Two Cabinet Ministers

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—The banks have run out of small coins, the customers have made a clean sweep of flashlight batteries, and the British Housewives' League is after the scalps of two cabinet ministers—all because of the fuel famine in Britain.

Moreover, the Archbishop of Canterbury is mightily annoyed because a number of people asked him to set aside a "fuel and power Sunday" for special prayers.

"It makes me furious sometimes when people assume that nobody can pray for anybody unless they are told to do so by an archbishop," he said.

In addition to his other worries, Prime Minister Attlee received from the British Housewives' League of Liverpool the following telegram:

"We demand dismissal of Strachey and Shinwell (ministers of food and fuel). Their impertinent complacency in face of national distress brand them as unfit for office."

The Housewives' League, composed principally of wives of Conservatives, recently claimed the previous food minister of the Labor government, Sir Ben Smith, as a victim.

The government order shutting off power and electric lights had scarcely been uttered, shopkeepers reported, before the run on stores selling flashlight batteries began. Within a few hours stock were exhausted.

Firms seeking money for cash payrolls found the banks short of small coins because the power shutdown has stopped operations at the royal mint.

TAUGHT HEALTHY LIVING
Five hundred years before the birth of Christ, Greek doctors began to teach healthy living, and some of the healthy people gave almost their entire time to diet, exercise, and other care of their bodies.

Temperatures Rise In Most Of Nation; No Floods Due Yet

(By The Associated Press)

Winter put its props away Thursday and most of the country enjoyed rising temperatures and clear skies.

Temperatures in the midwest ranged up to 55 degrees in Nebraska; the north Atlantic states still were cool but warmer weather was forecast; rain followed the abnormal cold in Florida and weather forecasters predicted a quick return to normal tourist weather.

Rising temperatures started melting snow in parts of the Great Lakes region but forecasters said the cover was not sufficiently widespread to raise any threat of floods at this time. Continued mild weather was forecast for the region.
